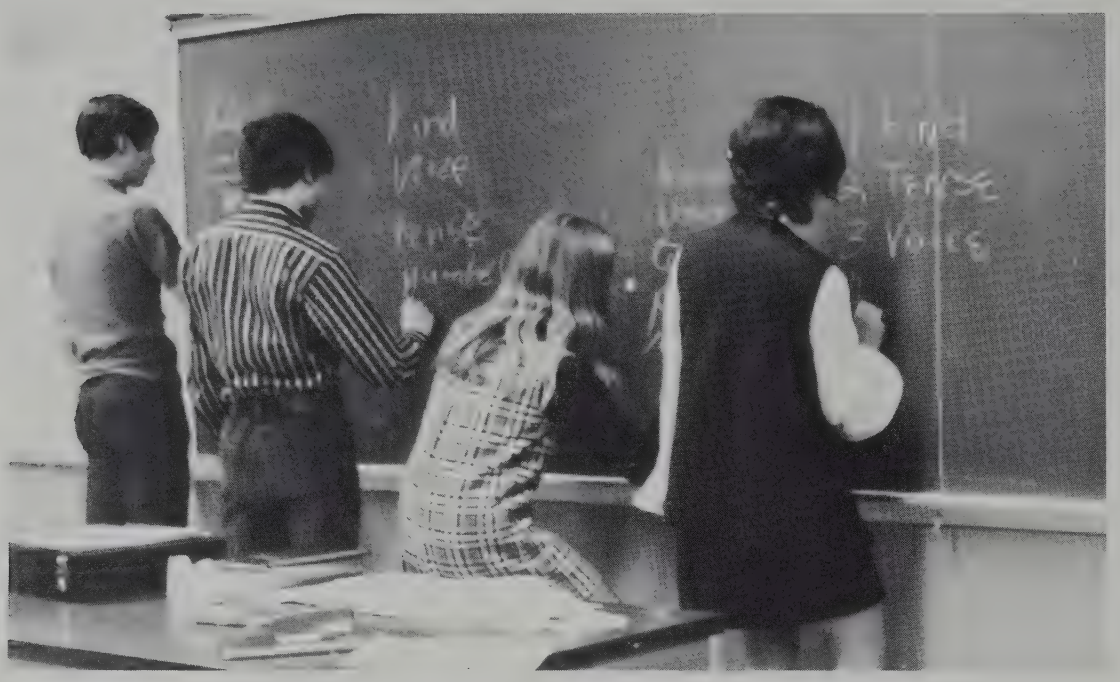
ACADEMICS

English Dept. Promotes Self-Expression



Sophomores show that board races are a fun way to review English.

To exist in the world today, a person must have the ability to express himself effectively, whether through writing or speaking. Offered to the student his junior and senior years are a variety of courses, including Composition; Speech; Journalism; Drama; and World, English, and American Literature. These courses are designed to begin where English 9 and 10, teaching only the basics, leave off. Developmental Reading is a short "course within a course," in which freshmen and sophomores leave their English classes to improve their reading skills. The students at DeKalb are fortunate to have so many ways of expressing themselves through English.

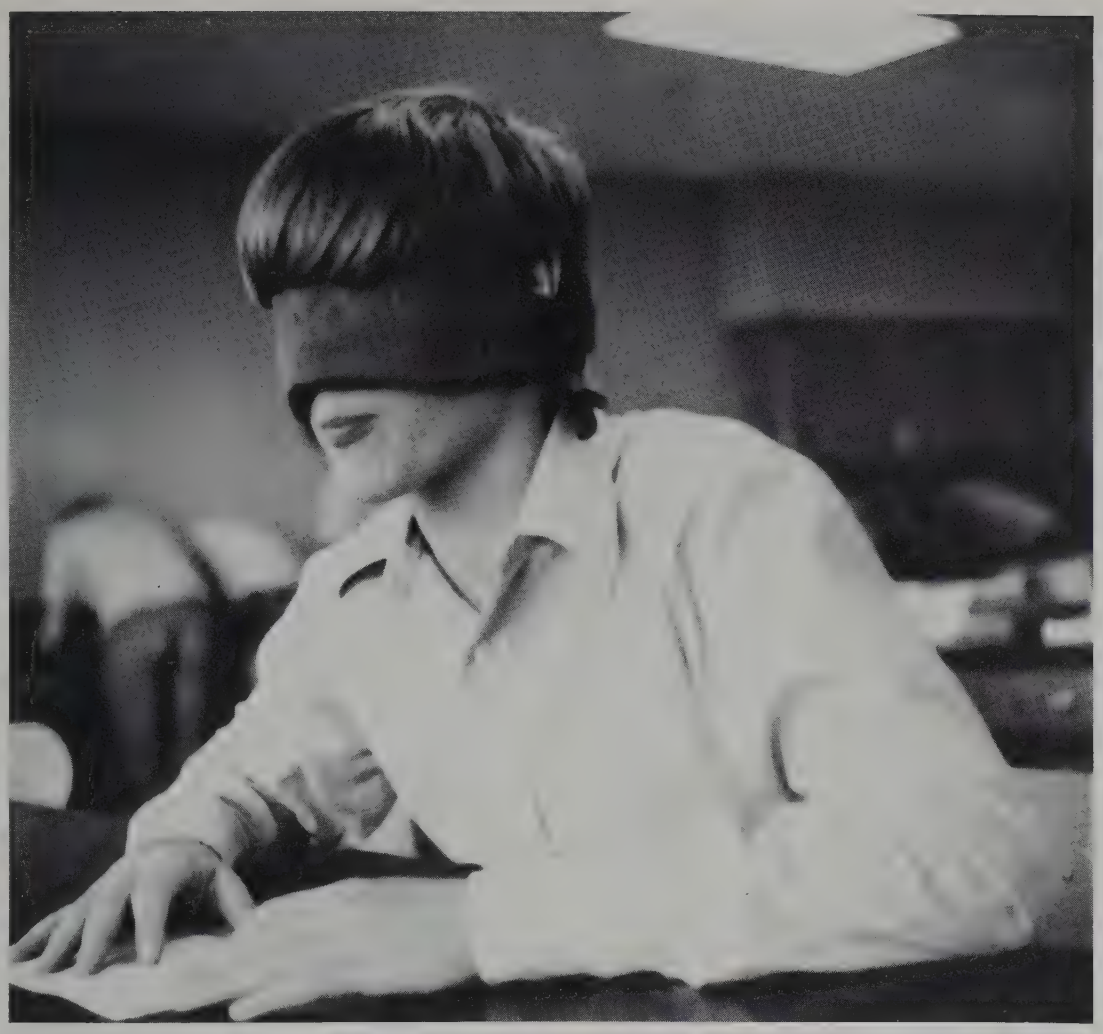
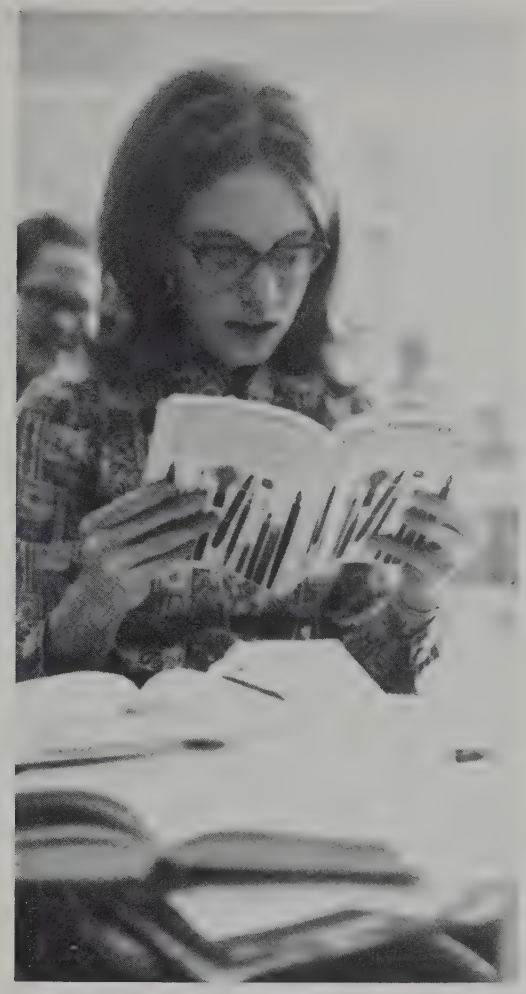
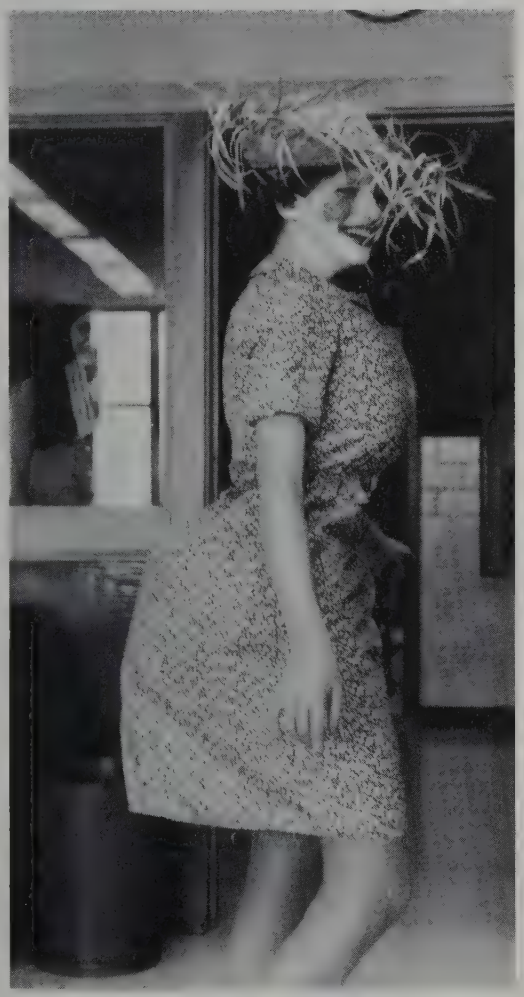
Kathy Noragon watches intently as Teri Sanders gives a demonstration speech on skiing.



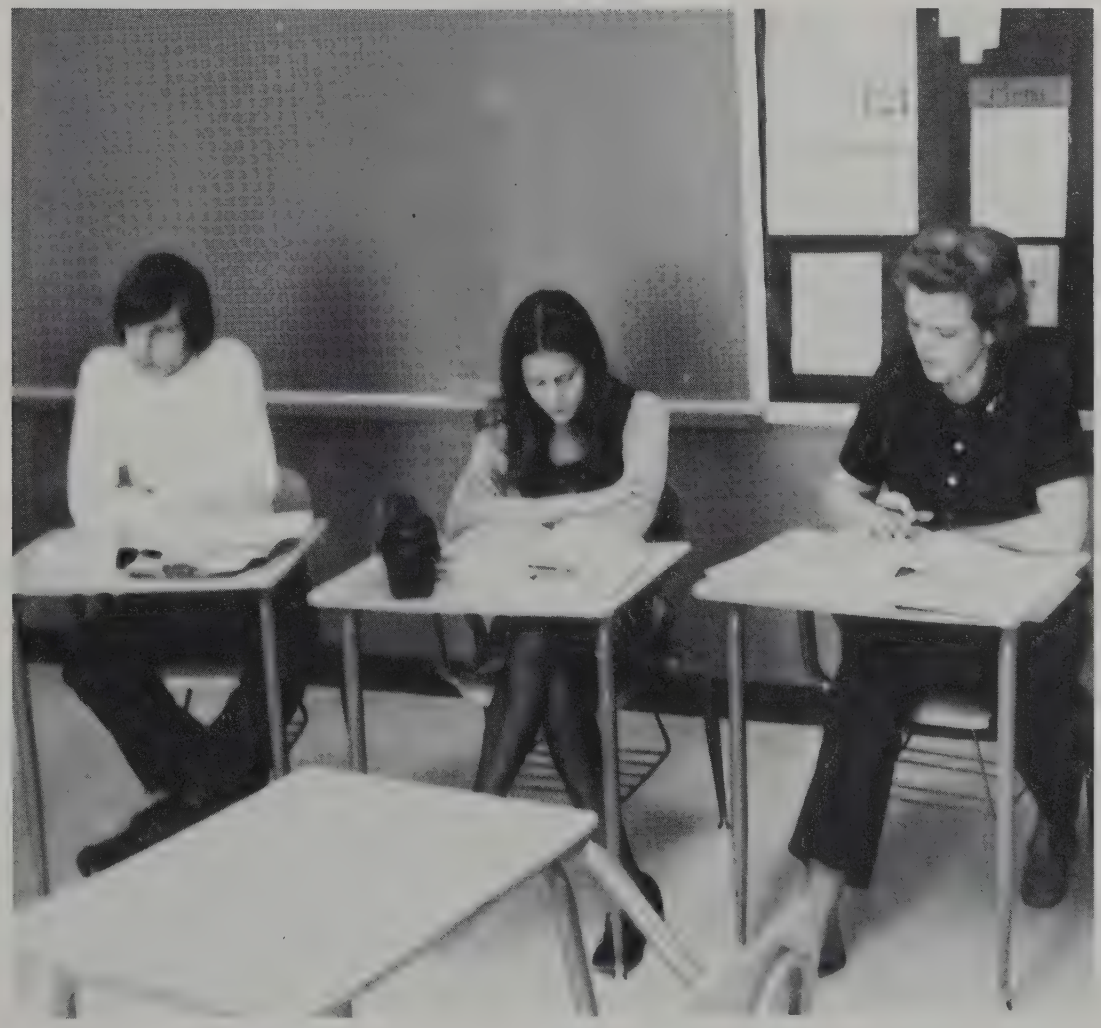
In freshman English, Mike Cooper participates in non-visual communication.



Linda Wilson uses many references while writing her research paper for Comp. II.



Trionne Hile shows a new way of giving a book report.



Dan Hervey and Kennis Weiler go over their literature assignment with Mrs. Finchum.

Language: Insight to Foreign Nations

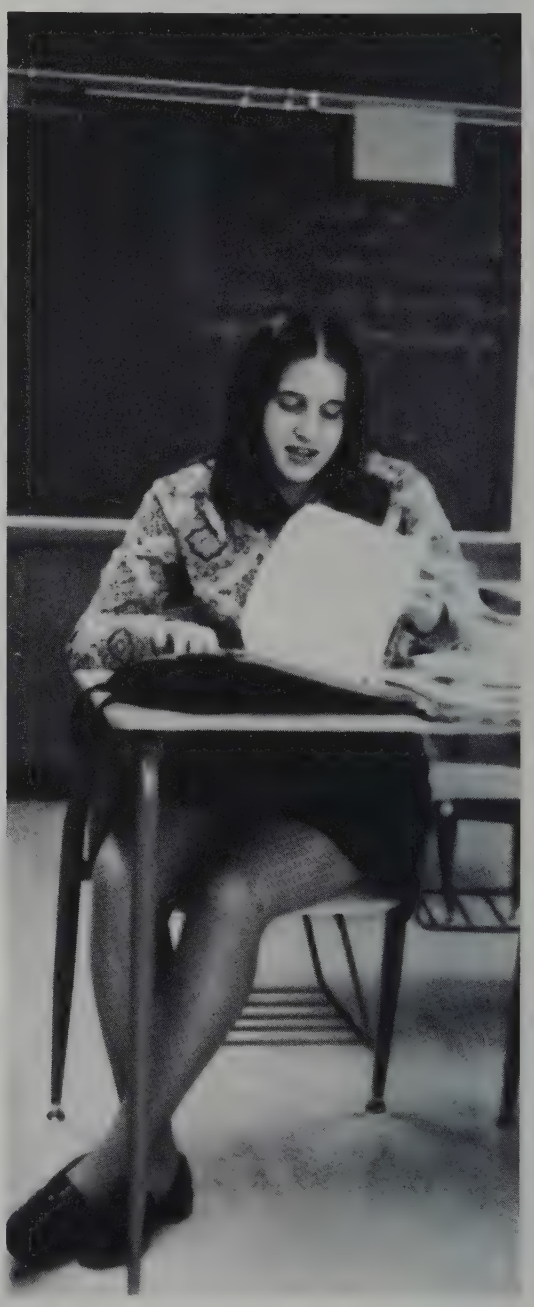
Mrs. Voss watches as the combined Latin and Spanish classes play Scrabble.

Studying a foreign language gives students a chance to broaden their knowledge of the languages and customs of other countries.

Four years of Spanish, German, and French, plus three years of Latin join to offer students at DeKalb opportunities to study the cultures of a foreign country.

The first two years combine to teach the student the fundamentals of the language, while the more complicated structures and history of the country are taught in the advanced courses.

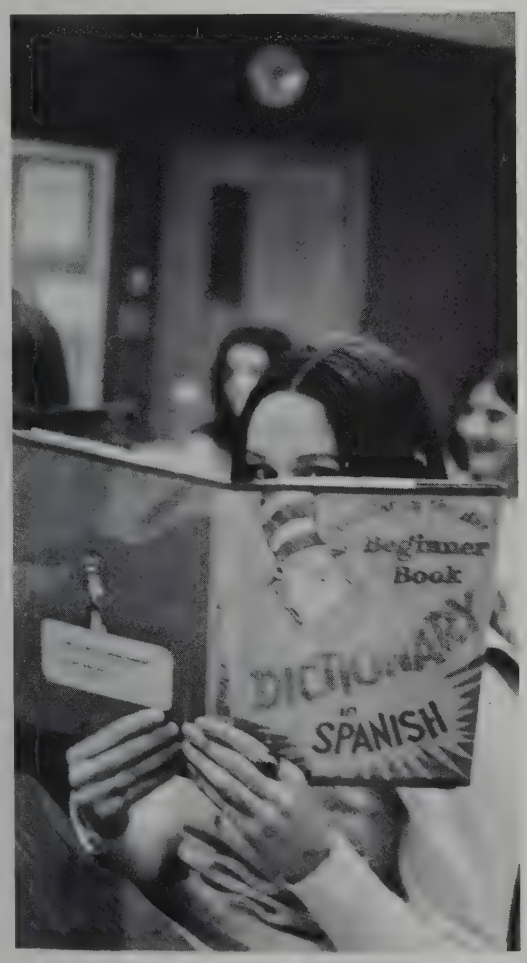
French III and IV classes combine to increase their understanding of the French language.



Beth Musser shows that the rewards of German IV take much time and effort.

Modern equipment aids Dawn Watson and Mike Harter in mastering Spanish.

Bill Schaab appears confused about the correct way to use headphones.

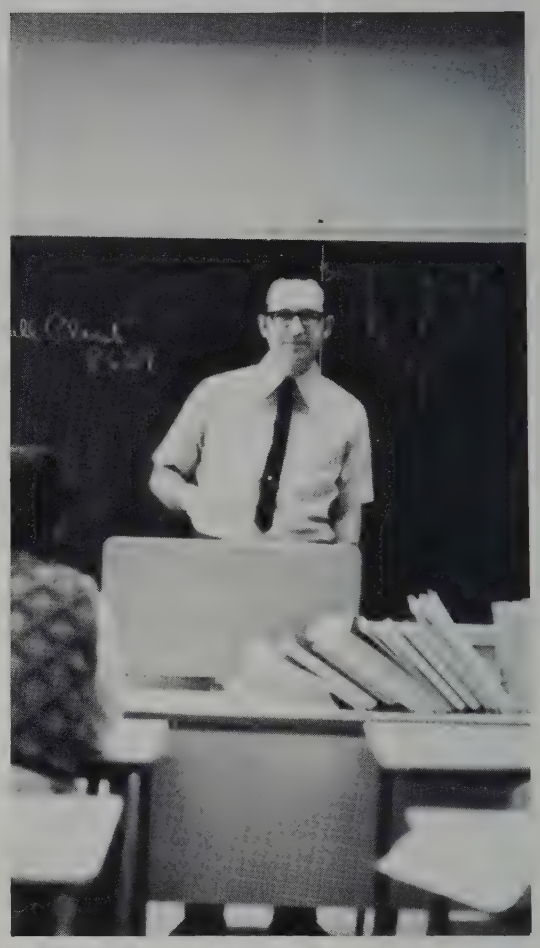


Laura Sullivan finds Dr. Seuss helpful in learning the Spanish language.

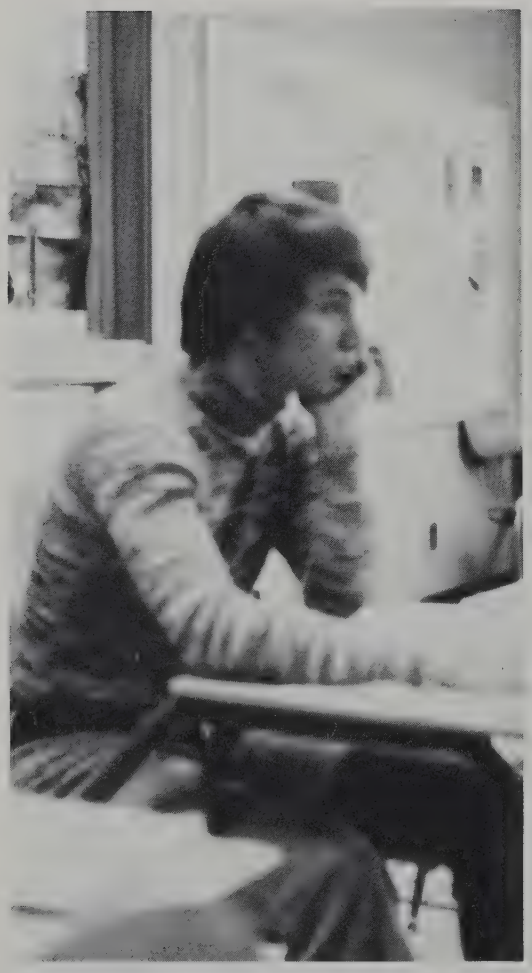
Bonnie Fox, using the headphones, increases her Latin vocabulary.

Business Prepares Students for Careers

Bill Lawless pushes for speed and no errors during a timed writing in Typing I.



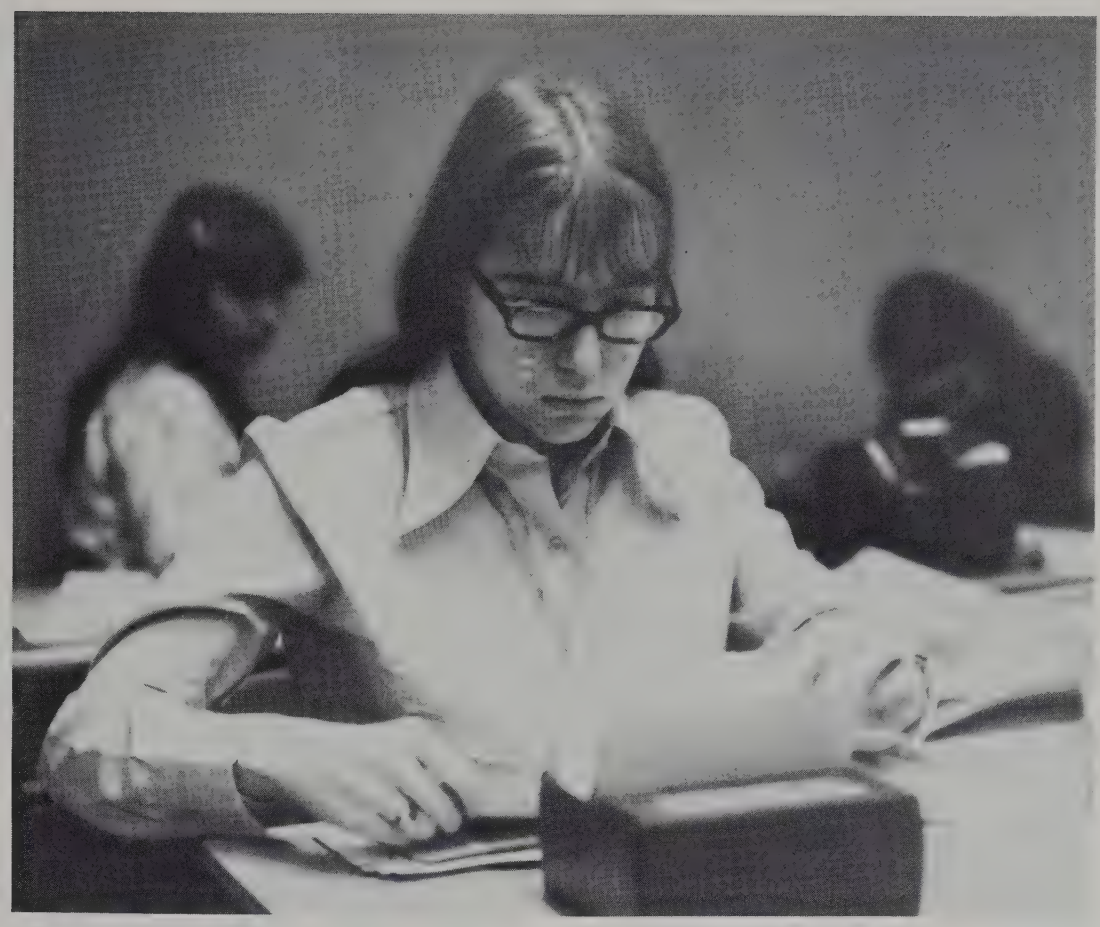
Knowledge of law is important to all, as Mr. Williams points out in Business Law.



Senior Ken Wilson listens intently to the interesting Business Law lecture.

Rose Ann Balzer practices Shorthand I so that she will be a good secretary.

The Business Department of DeKalb High School covers many aspects of business that the student expects to encounter in the modern business office. Intensive Business Lab, a two-hour course offered to seniors, gives the studen an opportunity to use the modern equipment available at D.H.S. Typing I and II combine to teach the student the fundamentals of typing, while Shorthand I and II teach the student the fundamentals of being an executive secretary.



Janice Paulen carefully files her letters in alphabetical order for Office Practice.

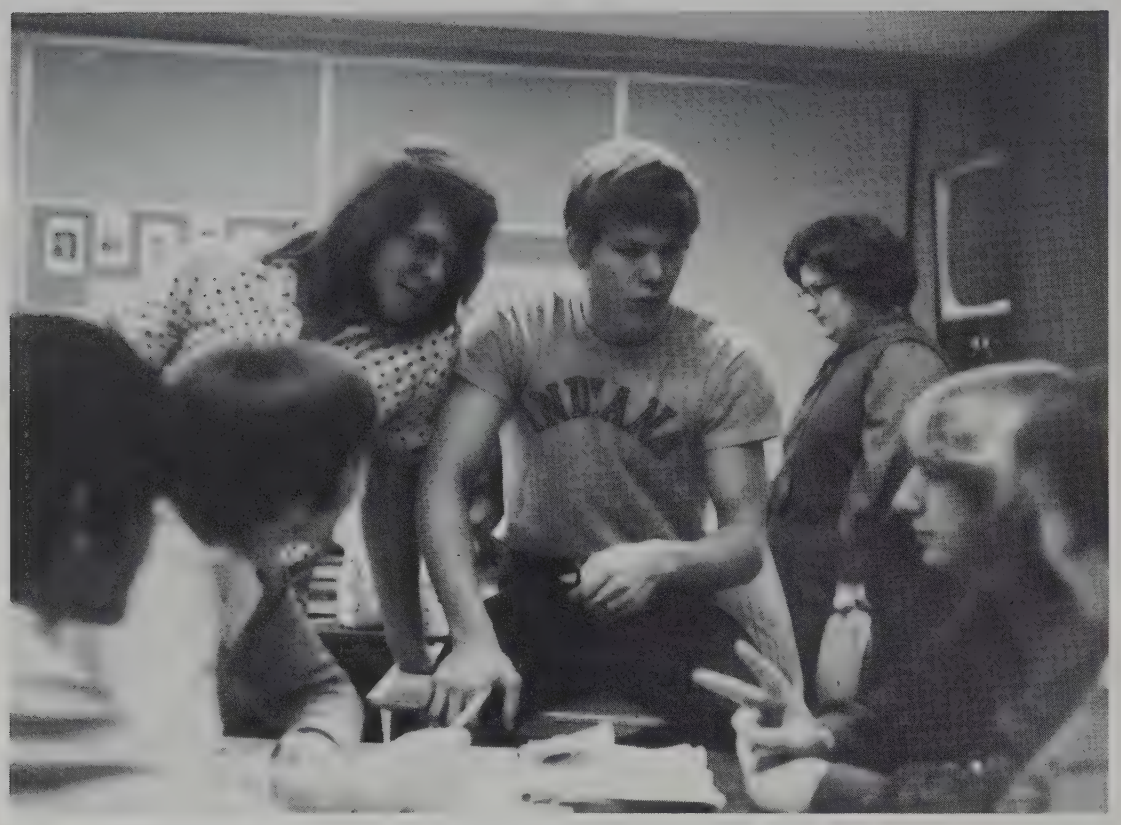
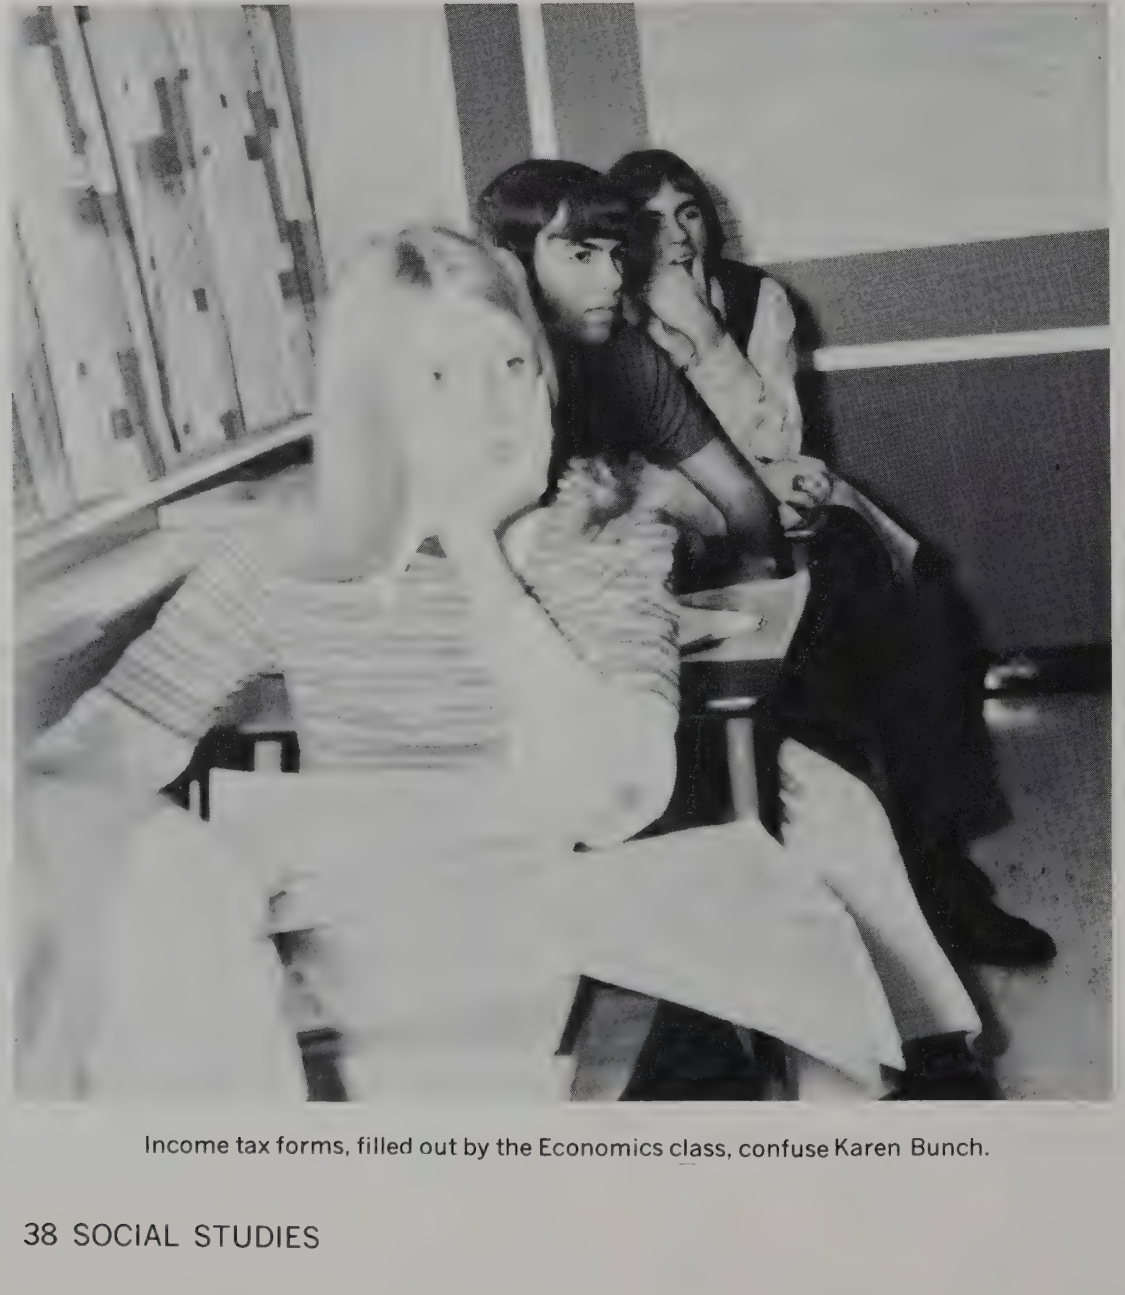
Social Studies: Man Past and Present



Problems of our society are discussed by Joe Reid, Brad Miller, and Bill Wible.

Problems, those of the United States, the world, and of people are the main topics of Social Studies. Movies, lectures, panels, field trips, and especially group discussion are frequently used to stress particular points. U.S. History students formed their own country, while Government students wrote, debated, and passed their own bills. Economics students filled out their own Federal income tax returns and bought and sold stock while Psychology and Sociology students learned of the workings of their own minds, as well as the minds of those around them.



Income tax forms, filled out by the Economics class, confuse Karen Bunch.

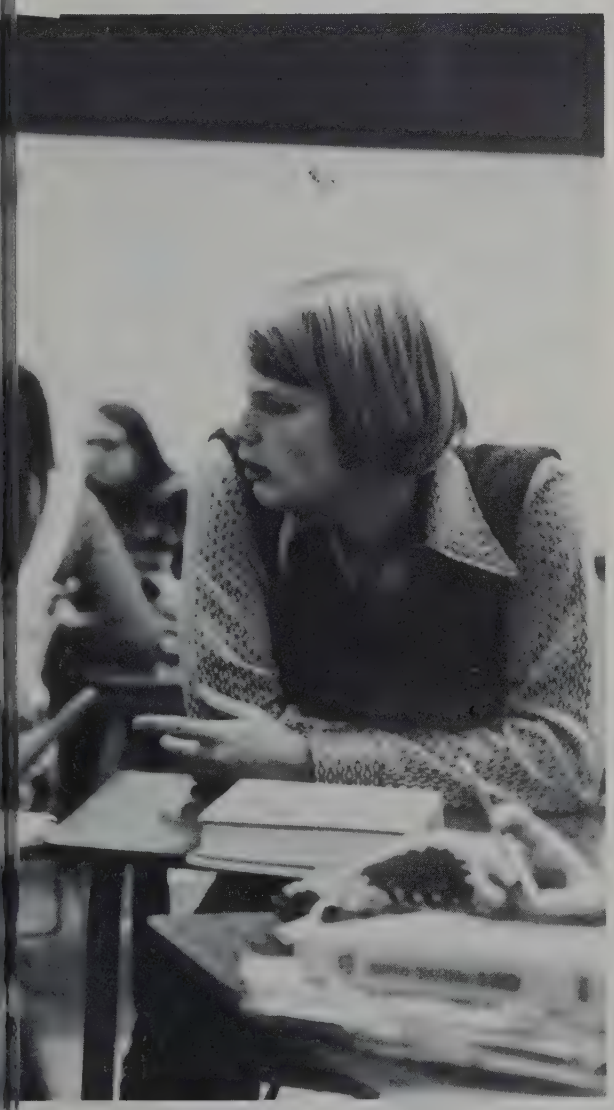
Bill Elworthy and Vic Benner learn the U.S. History provides Ron Davis with the opportunity to study America's past.



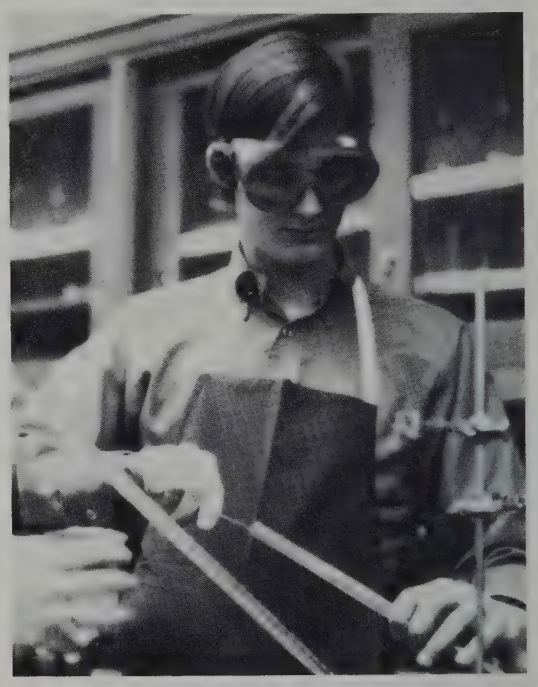
right way to draw up a bill in Government.

Babs Smith and Sue Tingley work to complete their Viewpoints assignments for history.

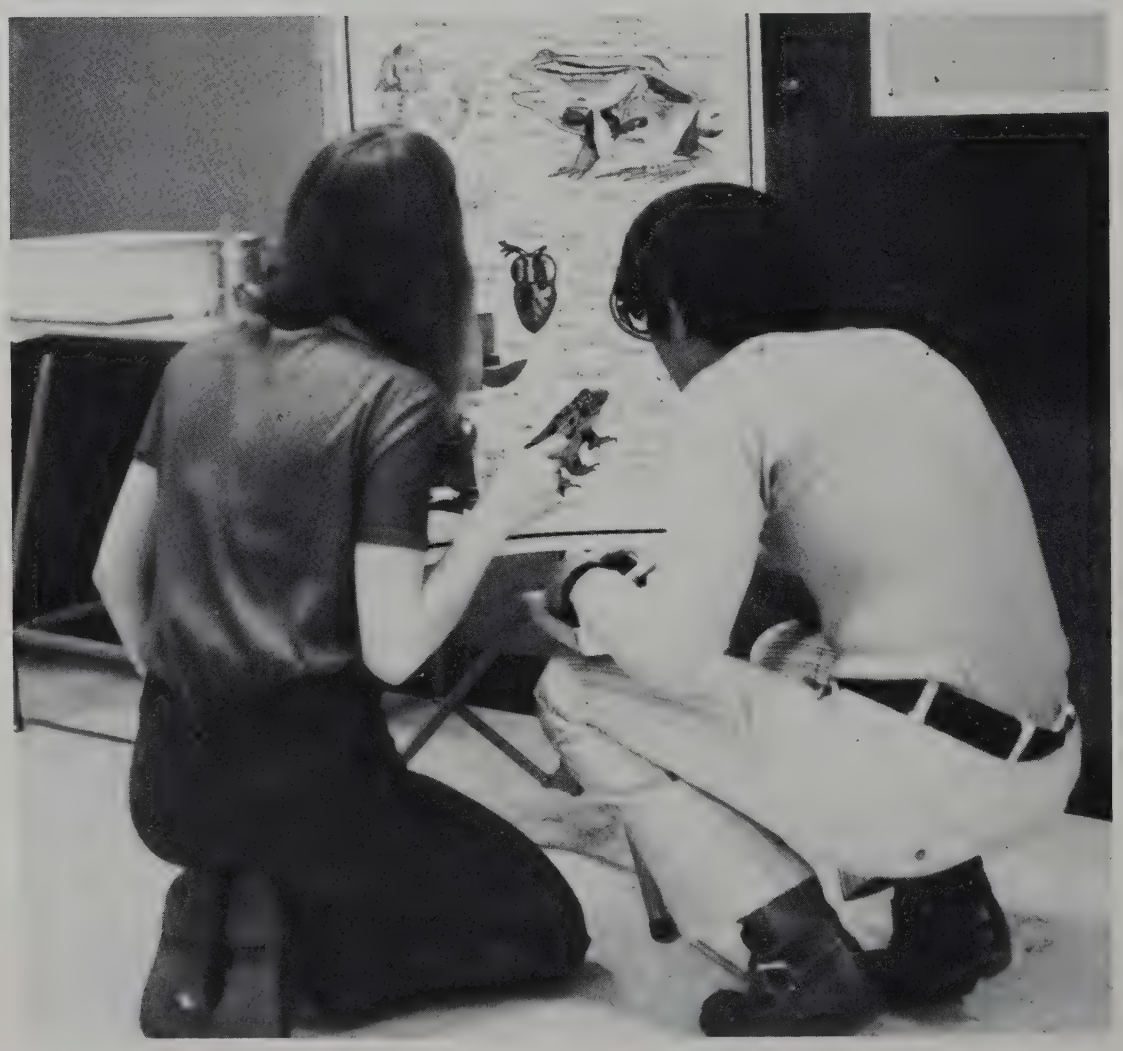
Students Probe All Aspects of Science

Terry Weimer and Greg Cassady viciously skin their cat in Biology II.

To the future scientist, DeKalb offers a host of opportunities. From Survey Science, reguired of all freshmen, the student may branch out into the field of his particular interest, choosing from Biology, Chemistry, Physics, Earth Science, and Aerospace. Advanced courses are also offered in many of these subjects. Much lab work is used in these classes. To the serious student, it is not so much work as it is enjoyment.



Chemistry intrigues Gregg Buttermore.



Susie Shull and Gary Warstler make good use of science charts.

Ginger Strite strives for accuracy.

Art Develops Creativity

Sketching . . . molding . . . building abstract shapes . . . are a few of the many things offered in the different areas of art. For those students interested in the fundamentals of art, DeKalb offers Basic Art and Advanced Art. Art Skills is a course designed for students planning to go into elementary teaching. Ceramics and Sculpture, Drawing and Painting I and II are classes for those digging deeper in the art field. Photography is another area in which skills may be developed. Through these various areas DeKalb students are able to expand their artistic interests.

Jeff Brown appears to be in pain as Charlie Gibson cuts him from his body mold which was later used as the base for Santa Claus in a merchant's window display.

Math Perplexes, Challenges Students

Pam McMaken finds Math IV a little more understandable as Mr. Ford explains again.

There are several levels of math into which a student at DeKalb might venture. A student entering the field of math has a choice of Practical Math or Algebra I. Practical Math may be taken either as a group class or on an individual basis. Its purpose is to review math previously learned so as to have a deeper understanding. Algebra I teaches the basics of algebra and is required before taking geometry. Geometry is represented by a never-ending stream of rays, angles, lines, and points. After completing Geometry, a student may take Algebra II where they study the field of logarithms. For those desiring higher levels of math, Trigonometry and Analytic Geometry are combined to form Mathematics IV.

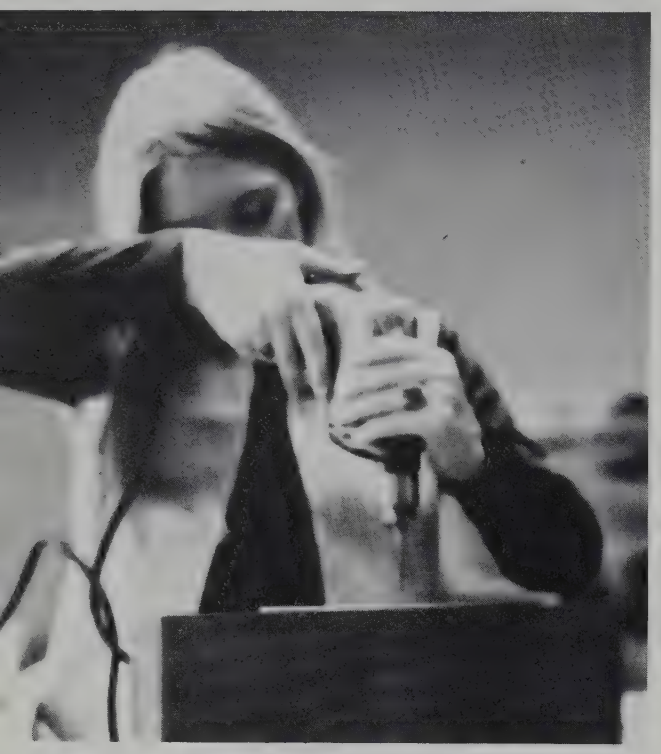
Freshman Jeff Shipe reaches high to place his problem on the board.

Working on trigometric functions, Denny Post turns to his sine table for information.

Chris MacDowall finds it easy to daydream in his freshman practical math class.

Students Gain Experience Through



Teresa Farver finds Home Arts class helpful as she prepares for future home repairs.

Industrial Arts provide DeKalb students with an excellent background to proceed into future occupations. Courses in woodworking, drafting, and auto mechanics supply students with actual experience in these skills. Home Arts, a new course offered to girls, prepares them for minor repairs in the home. The Industrial Arts Department offers a wide choice to interested students.

The sanding machine proves to be helpful for this Baron.

Mike Crouch takes pains in making his woodworking project perfect.

Mr. Bowman advises Marvin Gael and Dave Rhodes as they diagnose the problem.

Industrial Arts And Home Economics

After preparing an entire meal the boys sit down to enjoy it.

The Home Ec. Department offers a well rounded curriculum. Clothing I familiarizes students with basic sewing skills. Clothing II teaches more advanced methods such as tailoring and fancy stitching. Foods I and II are designed to encourage the use of imagination in the preparation and serving of meals to a family. The Home Ec. Department also offers courses in family care and relations. A Home Ec class for boys is designed for those interested in knowing how to plan, buy and prepare basic meals. Thus, the opportunities for students are great.

Chris Harkless is ever "sew" careful as she works on a new outfit.

Multitudes Of Melodies Fill DHS

Mr. Markiton assists a sophomore ensemble with a special contest number.

Students interested in music have a wide variety of opportunities at DeKalb. Those students interested in the vocal portion of music may join Freshman Choir. From this, they may advance to Girls' Glee Club or Concert Choir and then on to A Capella Choir. Students interested in instrumental music have several outlets for their interests. From Freshman Band, one may proceed to Concert Band and then on to Symphonic Band. For those students with the desire to study the background and development of music, Music Theory is offered. For the musically inclined student, DeKalb offers much.

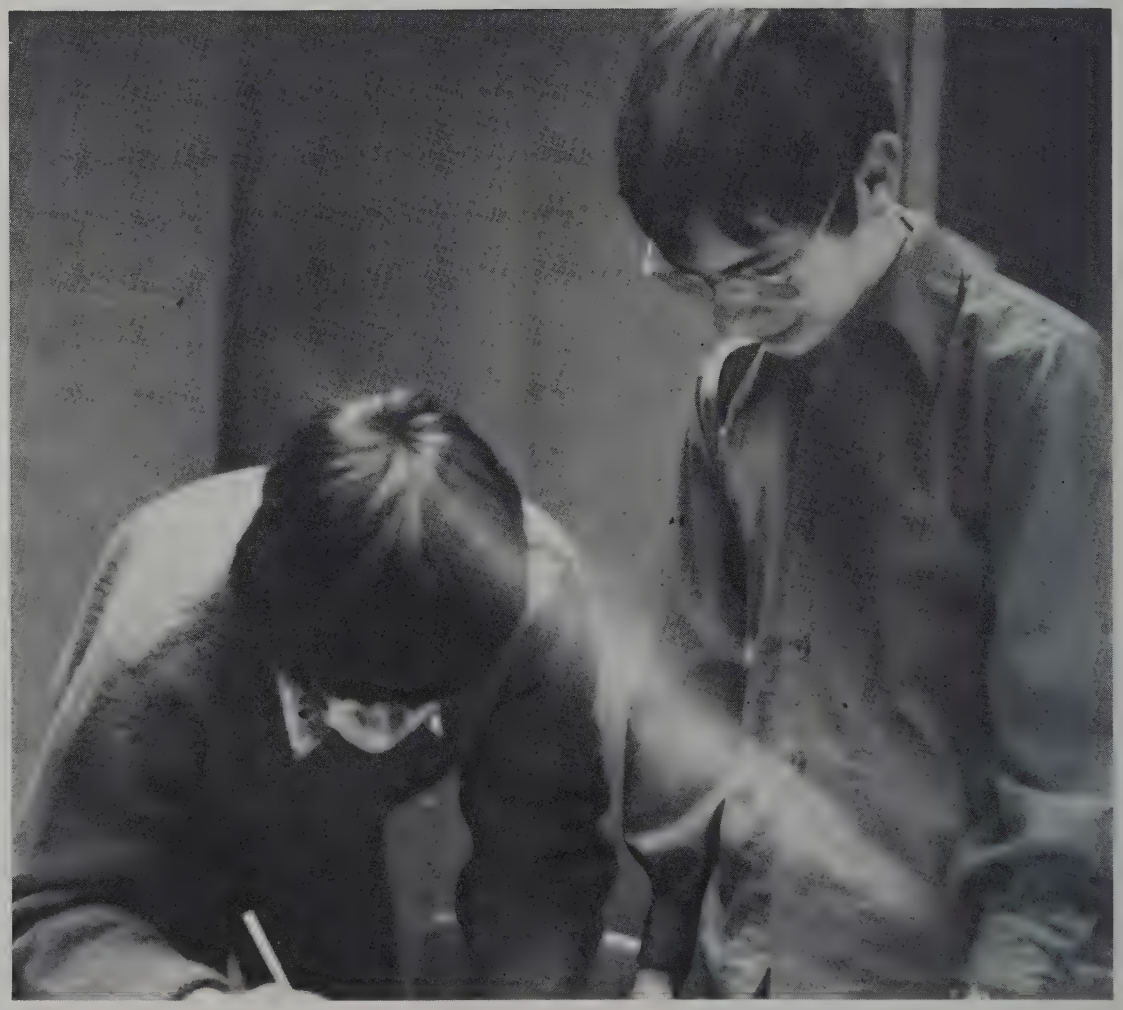
Jeff Ritenour works diligently at his studies.

Mrs. Watts is caught while doing her spring cleaning.



These two boys have found that two heads are better than one.

One of the rewards of Exploratory Teaching is having an enthusiastic class.

Paul Thomas helps students individually.

Seniors Sample Careers In Teaching

Exploratory Teaching is a one-semester course which gives students a chance to find out whether they like taking the part of a teacher. The first nine weeks are spent in the classroom studying the behavior of children and discussing classroom situations. During the second nine weeks, students go to their chosen class and experience teaching situations.

Kathy McDaniel seems to enjoy teaching.

Ken Wilson tells his class what he would do if he were President.

P.E. Improves Ability And Agility

Tom Brandon discovers that basketball requires style and grace.

Physical education is essential to DeKalb High School students. It provides them with the opportunity to improve their physical fitness. All freshmen are required to take gym five days a week. Sophomores are required to take a combined course of gym and health. In both of these courses students are taught the fundamentals of physical fitness and the importance of health. Juniors and seniors may take gym as an elective course. They are taught more advanced methods of physical fitness. Upperclassmen assist the instructors in freshman and sophomore classes. All students are given the opportunity to use and enjoy the gym apparatus. This includes the trampoline, balance beam, rings, parallel bars, sidehorse, and weight room. Correct use results in physical fitness.

A freshman P.E. class takes advantage of the equipment in the weight room.

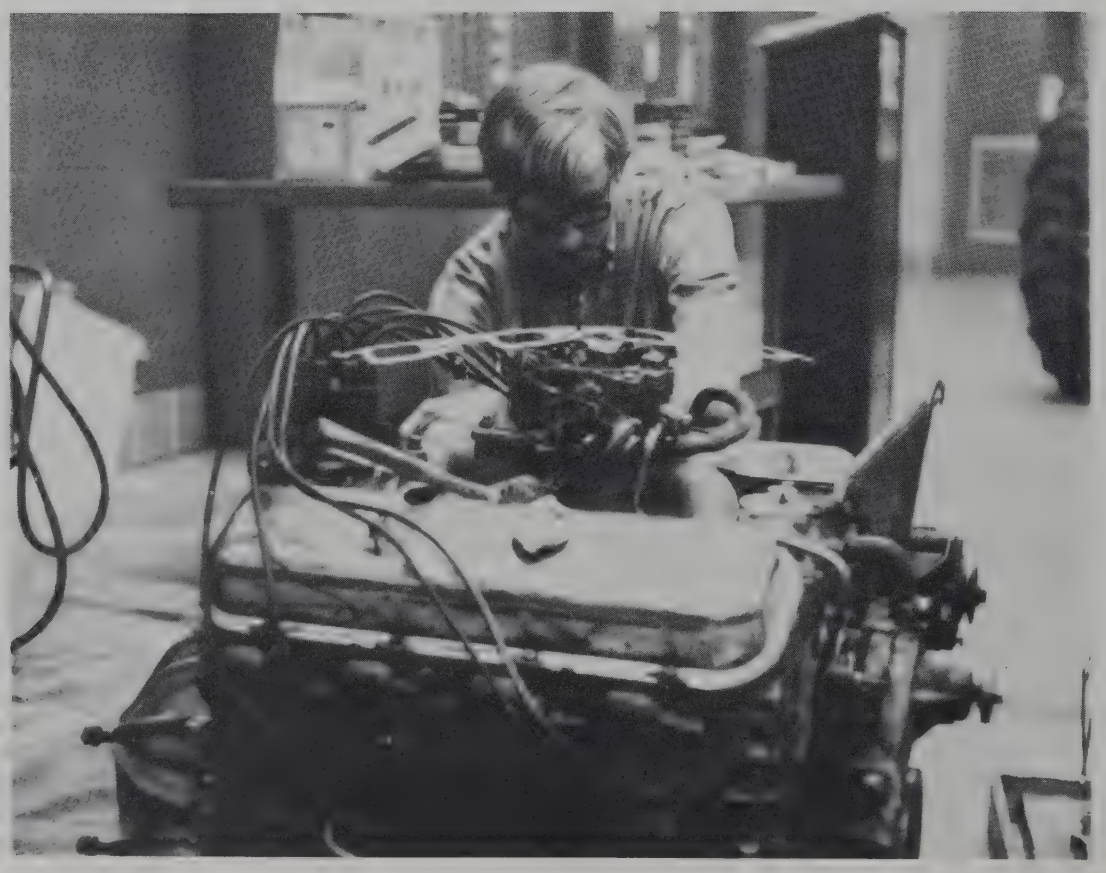
With a determined look, Monte Gunzenhauser slams the ball back to his opponent.

Lisa Walker performs on the unevens.

Agriculture Aids Future Farmers

Dewey Quinn checks the lock to make sure the tools are safe.

Many areas of study in the field of agriculture are open to the students at DeKalb. The agriculture department gives instruction in soil and water conservation, crop production, and animal breeding methods. The department also offers courses in forestry, wildlife, and landscaping. Students are given practical experience in setting up new farm machinery and repairing old machinery. Through these courses students develop an understanding of farm management and farm structure. Each course deals with a different aspect of farming which enables students to become promising future farmers.



Junior Shafer examines his work to make sure it is right.

Junior Alan High works diligently to repair the tractor tire.

Fellowship Of Christian Athletes

Achieve Progressive Year

The main purpose of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes is to combine the challenge and adventure of religious living with being an athlete. The guys who were in this club carried out this purpose quite well. They held meetings once a month, with "an overnight" in the gym every three or four months. Various activities included participating in different sports and having fellowship together. Another objective they wanted to achieve was to send several members to a summer conference.

The cross country Barons, under the direction of Coach Niles Walton, raced to an overall record of 41-18 and a regular season record of 13-5. Led by Seniors Gary Teixeira and Ira Magginnis, and Sophomore Marshall Grate, all who completed the two-mile in less than ten minutes, the Men-In-Red had outstanding performances in post-season action.

Only four runners will graduate, and the Barons have a strong underclass team. They showed strength in several freshman-sophomore meets and have plenty of potential for the future. The Baron cross country team should expect another great season next year.

Freshman Team Reigns Victorious

A lot of long, hard practices under the guidance of Coach Bill Jones revealed a powerful freshman team. By using ability, strength, and teamwork, the Freshman Gridiron closed the season with a 7-0 record. Fans should look forward to watching this triumphant team in the next few years, for they will indeed be "A Strong Baron Powerhouse."

Reserves' Determination Gives Successful Season

Coach Hillabrand's Barons proved to be strong as they wound up the season with a 6-1 record. The season opened with a big win against East Noble. Frustration then followed as arch rival Garrett bounced back and handed the Mighty Barons an 0-8 loss. The last five games revealed that the Big Red was inded forceful, as the opponents fell easily in defeat. Varsity spectators should look forward to a successful season next year.

Barons Show Endurance in Disappointing Season

The 1971 gridiron campaign was nothing but a disappointing one for the Baron Varsity.

The season started well as the Men-In-Red tied tough Buffton, lost a close one to Angola in the closing minutes of the game, and tied the Starfires of South Adams. After that, however, the Big Red Machine was plagued with injuries and defeats for the remainder of the season.

It is important to note, however, that wherever the Mighty Barons were, their fans were loyal to the quick. They battled through all types of rain, cold, and mud to back their team. It is also noteworthy that even if the Barons were defeated on the scoreboard, they were never defeated in the eyes of the fans.

Baron Racketmen Get Much Action

DeKalb's tennis team achieved its best season in its fie-year history by winning nine matches and losing but two. Thoselosses went to conference foes Euffton and Concordia. The team plzed second in sectional play and hird in the NEIC conference tournament:

Personalities such as "Tha cute" Mick Cameron, "Wild Bill" Shaab, Dave "Rosy" Rose, Bruce "The Bomber" Schlosser, Jeff "th Giant Killer" Grogg, and "Steve-Rino" Felke worked under Coacl Bowman's direction to give the Barons a victorious season.

Although many of the Barons this season were seniors, theracketeers have a strong underclass squad, and should prove themselves worthy again in 1972.

"Where, oh, where did that tennis ball go?" is an appropriate question for Senior Steve Felke.

Baron Basketball Draws Thousands

Coach "Whitie" Wakenight led his Varsity Barons from a rather poor 3-18 record last year to a superb 14-8 record this year. Needless to say, the Barons were a team which caught many area coaches, fans, and sportswriters by surprise—not to mention the other teams.

Other than the first game of the season, with Huntington, and the last game of the season, with Garrett, the Barons lost no games on their home court—proof that home court fans give a great boost to a team.

One great credit to the team was that, with only a few exceptions, the Baron team was identical to the 1970-71 team, but still came out with a vastly improved record.

The Barons were the only team to blemish the perfect record of the Leo Lions, a feat which made sports headlines statewide.

Yes, the Big Red regained their name in the basketball world, and looking at the upcoming teams, it seems as if we can expect to retain that name for many years to come.

To the cheerleaders we give many thanks. Much time, effort, and energy was put into their job of "Backing our Mighty Barons." As Coach Platt said once at a pep session, "School spirit is like a love affair: either you're in love with it, or you're not." Our cheerleaders certainly are, and they express themselves quite openly. Even though disappointment sometimes arose, anger and resentment was pushed aside and good sportsmanship shined through. Through victories, tears of joy ran freely down their cheeks. Yes, truly our cheerleaders proved that, "win or lose, proud Barons we remain."

"Way to go, Barons," was yelled by Juli Miller and Susie Ladd.

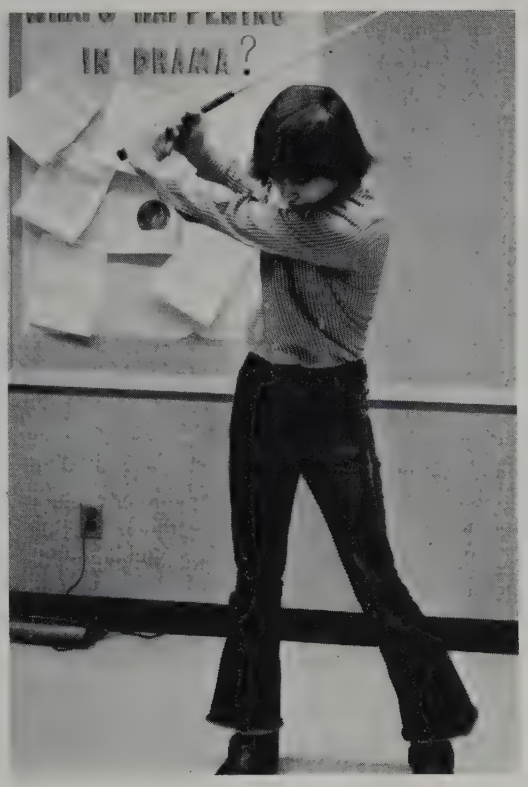
Golfers Gain Experience



John Myers anxiously waits for golf season to open. He decides to take a few practice swings inside.

Our Baron golf team made a vast improvement from last year's record. At the N.E.I.C. Conference this year, we placed third, while last year we came in seventh place. The DeKalb's nine had double wins over arch rival Garrett, the East Noble Knights, and the Angola Hornets. In the Lake Hills Invitational there were eighteen teams. Our linksmen came in fourteenth, which was the same as last year. Next year's team should prove to be just as strong and determined as this year's teamsters, for there will be five lettermen returning. As Coach Wagner said, "They're all tremendous. And they're good, everyone of them."

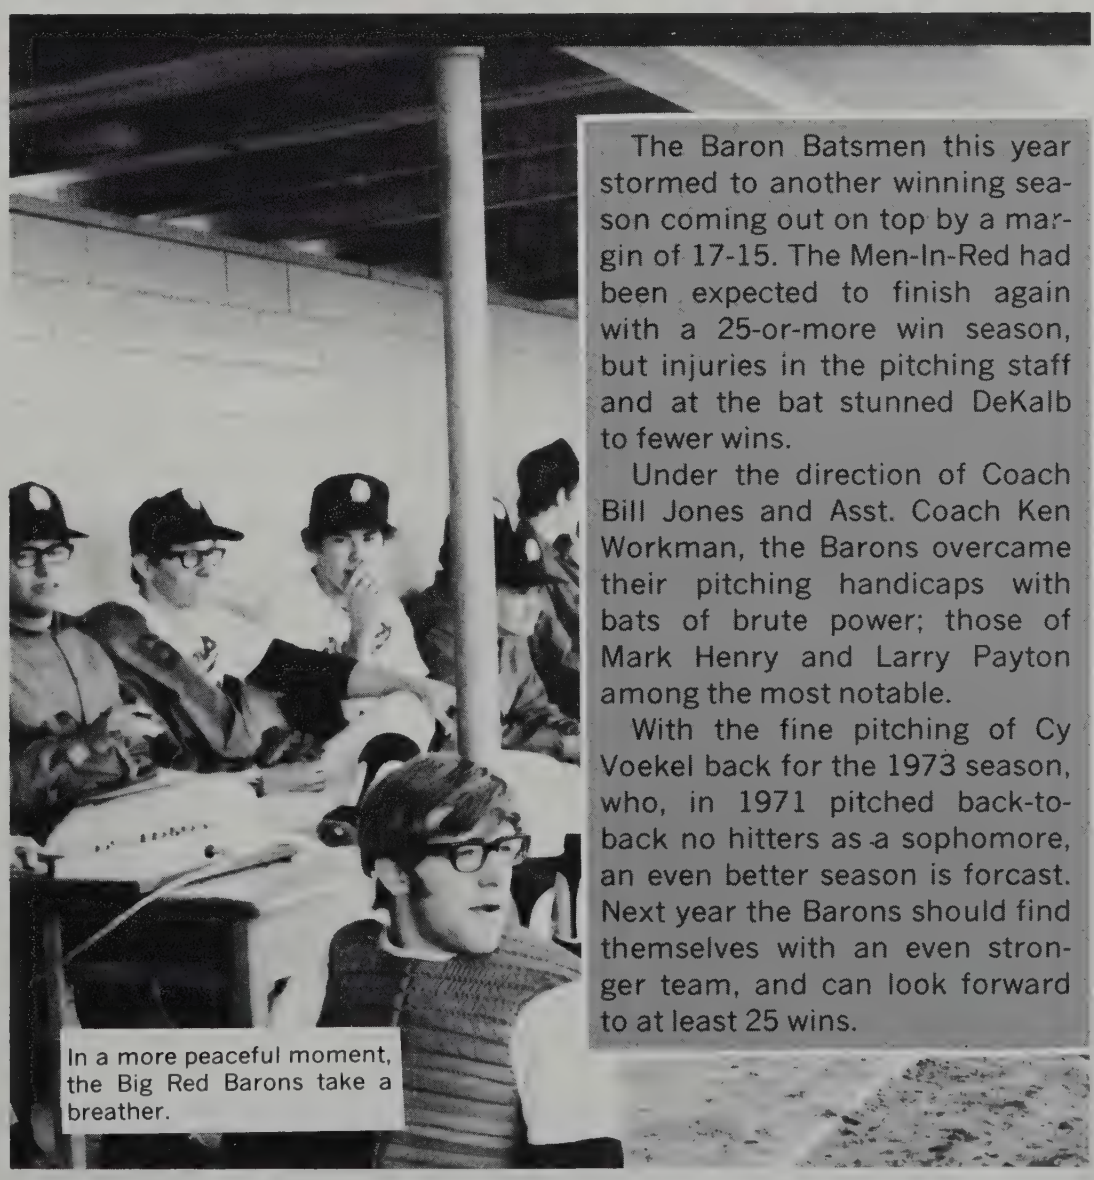
Mark Henry prepares for another hit.



In a more peaceful moment, the Big Red Barons take a breather.

The Baron Batsmen this year stormed to another winning season coming out on top by a margin of 17-15. The Men-In-Red had been expected to finish again with a 25-or-more win season, but injuries in the pitching staff and at the bat stunned DeKalb to fewer wins.

Under the direction of Coach Bill Jones and Asst. Coach Ken Workman, the Barons overcame their pitching handicaps with bats of brute power; those of Mark Henry and Larry Payton among the most notable.

With the fine pitching of Cy Voekel back for the 1973 season, who, in 1971 pitched back-to-back no hitters as a sophomore, an even better season is forcast. Next year the Barons should find themselves with an even stronger team, and can look forward to at least 25 wins.

Scott Lutz fouls as he drives for a lay-up.

Intramurals Offer Relaxation

The championship game of the intramural round-robin begins with the opening tip-off.

Intramurals keep competition lively among many active Barons. The different sports range from basketball, which is extremely fatiguing, to ping-pong, which requires only the arm muscle movement. Intramurals are held during the winter season. The teams are organized so that a round-robin tournament follows the schedule. Anyone who is not in freshman, reserve team, or varsity competition is able to participate. Intramurals help an individual train in different sports and also helps the individual endure patience with fellow teammates.

Administrators And Board Of Education

Dr. James Watson—Superintendent

The Board of Education, consisting of five members, has many duties to fulfill. Their primary function is to establish district school policies, ranging from a philosophy of education to employee sick leave. Another major responsibility the Board fulfills is the handling of all district finances. They also hire all school personnel and establish and maintain school facilities. Most of the Board's decisions affect DHS students and faculty.

The administrators are the arms of the Board of Education. Their main duty is to carry out Board policies. Another area of responsibility which they fulfill is the recruiting, assigning, and supervising of all personnel. The selecting of all curricula for the school district and providing transportation for the students to and from school are also included in the numerous duties of the administrators.

Teachers Take Time To Enjoy Life

Eating together is one of the pleasures Ina and Niles Walton experience at DeKalb.

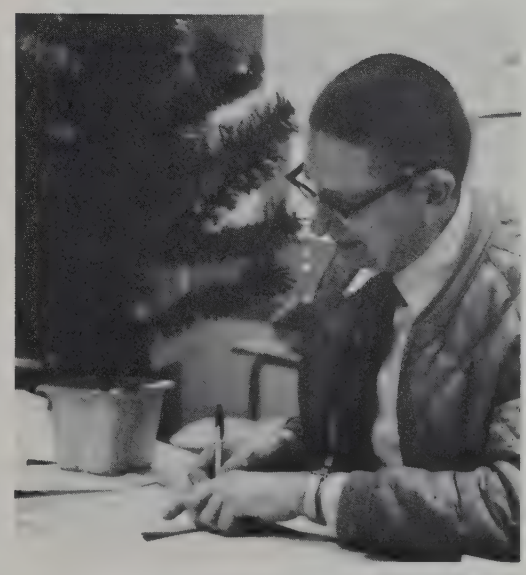
Bill Jones's expression proves that a teacher's life is hardly dull.

Bill Schlosser and William Griggs "play the bench" during the DeKalb Faculty-WOWO game.



Mr. Love shares many of his extra hours with the yearbook staff.

DeKalb High School Department Heads are eleven teachers who perform duties beyond routine teaching. They are the specializers of DeKalb's basic educational departments who carry a tremendous load of responsibility during our school term. Department Heads coordinate all curriculum, select all textbooks, and give advice for all supply and equipment requests. They also orient all new teachers, student teachers, and substitutes. As the voice of the entire faculty, they meet weekly with Mr. King to keep informed on the current issues of DeKalb High School, such as homeroom and attendance policies, student council requests, convocations, and discipline. Through vigorous discussion, problems are thoroughly explored and conclusions are reached.

Class Of 1972 Looks Toward

Carol Ward, Deb Hinman, and Dan Boren await their turn to march into the gymnasium.

The 308-member Class of 1972, largest in the school's history, combined Baccalaureate and Commencement into a single ceremony. The boys wore dark blue robes, while the girls wore light blue and carried white roses.

After Ken Wilson's invocation and Herb Hillabrand's welcome, Rev. Everett Haines presented a sermon. "Where the Roads Come Together," the class song, was an elaborate production, involving small groups of seniors at microphones; brass, piano, drums, and guitar accompaniment; and the resounding voices of the remainder of the class. Brad Miller's class intention and President Jon Duncan's farewell followed.

Diplomas were awarded by Superintendent James Watson and Marymae Gingrich's benediction closed the afternoon.

308 seniors and a capacity crowd suffered the heat to attend DeKalb's fifth graduation exercises.

go placidly amid the noise and haste, and remember what peace there may be in silence.
as far as possible without surrender be on good terms with all persons.
speak your truth quietly and clearly;
and listen to others, even the dull and ignorant;
they too have their story.
avoid loud and aggressive persons, they are vexations to the spirit.
if you compare yourself with others, you may become vain and bitter; for always there will be greater and lesser persons than yourself.
enjoy your achievements as well as your plans.
be yourself. especially, do not feign affection.
neither be cynical about love; for in the face of all aridity and disenchantment it is perennial as the grass.
take kindly the counsel of the years, gracefully surrendering the things of youth.
nurture strength of spirit to shield you in sudden misfortune.
beyond a wholesome discipline, be gentle with yourself.
you are a child of the universe, no less than the trees and the stars; you have a right to be here.
and whether or not it is clear to you, no doubt the universe is unfolding as it should.
therefore be at peace with God, whatever you conceive him to be, and whatever your labors and aspirations, in the noisy confusion of life keep peace with your soul.
with all its sham, drudgery, and broken dreams, it is still a beautiful world.
be careful. strive to be happy.

Our thanks go to-

Mr. Jim Arthur, American Yearbook Representative, who brightened the pub room whenever he came.

Mr. Kelso Davis, group photographer and photo finisher, who was never rattled when we poured deadline pictures into his studio.

Mr. Robert Love for his long hours at hard work in the publications room and especially for his endless patience during a deadline week.

Auburn Water and Electric Company for providing us with the cherry picker which we used to take the color picture of the class of '72.

Mr. Pine, who helped us numerous times in planning and taking pictures.

Mr. Guy, our friend.

And finally, a big thank you goes to the 1972 Saber staff for their creativeness and hard work which has combined to make this the greatest yearbook ever!
